

Bakdash

Schools and universities are the most important centers providing educational services that affect an important part of the social development process of the next generation. Therefore, in order to make the best use of the available space of schools and universities and promote educational benefits, their environment should be full of tranquility and it ought to be reminiscent of their home. Bakdash Trading Company offers the best to its customers in the field of school equipment and office furniture. You can talk to Bakdash consultants and experts before making any choice based on your need to choose the best product so as not to regret your choice. Bakdash Trading Company works so hard to offer high-quality products to its customers with the best price in the global market.

○ Types of chairs:

- Exam arm chair with a book holder:
Exam chairs with beautiful appearance and seating are very comfortable. The handles are wide, and can be opened and closed. Their height is standard and can be used for all elementary, middle and high schools. There is a compartment below these chairs for books and accessories.

- Exam arm chair without a book holder

These chairs are one of the best-selling training chairs and they can be put together to take up less space when not in use. They are made of 25 × 25 profiles and have wide handles with the capability to open and close.

- Flat back-rest chair:

Due to the fact that these chairs can be washed and disinfected, they are very hygienic and are very popular. When sitting on these chairs, the person's back is in an upright position and the standard arch of the back is observed.

- Tubular test chair

Strong and durable pipes are used at the base of these chairs so that any person with different heights and weights can sit comfortably. These chairs are completely standard and are designed and manufactured using the principles of body ergonomics.

- University double chair

In the design of these chairs, two strong profiles have been used between the bases to prevent the bases from shaking. These chairs are very sturdy and durable, and their seats are comfortable and designed in accordance with the ergonomic standards of the body.

- University three-person chair

These chairs are new in Bakdash company. High quality raw materials have been used in their construction. They have a thick and strong skeleton and profile, and two strong profile interfaces are used between the bases. These chairs are very strong and durable and can withstand a lot of weight.

- Teacher's chair

These chairs are very comfortable and light, so they can be easily moved. They are designed to fit the classroom space and are produced in the custom-made color and designs. All connections are made using welding, rivets and screws, so they are durable and of high quality.

- Office chair

Includes expert chair, management chair, conference chair and so on. Paying attention to ergonomic principles in making these products makes them very convenient during long use. The support is made of high-quality materials and they retain their appearance and beauty over time. Its bases are wheeled and can be adjusted in height.

Office sofa: Includes steel office sofa, classic office sofa, and modern office sofa. They are offered in half set, couch set or complete set. The use of spring technique and elastic straps with high strength

○ Types of tables:

- Adjustable single student desk (chair)

These models of benches are very practical and well-sold, and the ability to adjust the seats in it has made students comfortable. The paint used in it is a durable oven paint and is made with the dimensions and colors that customers desire.

- Desk and chair (bench) for two students

These benches include a large double table and two chairs. Therefore, long-term use will not cause fatigue. Can be ordered for preschools, elementary and high schools.

• Desk and chair (bench) for three students: These benches are glued together and are very strong and durable. They have a bookcase for books and extra equipment. They are suitable for elementary to high school students in small to large dimensions.

• Teacher desk
They are produced in models with shelves, doors, with drawers and without drawers. Stylish designs and high resistance to discoloration are important specifications of these tables.

• Office desks: These desks are used in office environments and include a variety of staff desks, secretary desks, conference desks and management desks. They are produced in standard and different dimensions and usually have drawers and shelves.

Drawing desks: These desks are a practical desk for art and painting. These tables are made of a luminous screen on which light shines through paper, and better details can be seen. The base of these tables is very strong and durable and can be adjusted in height.

- Two-sided study table

These tables take up little space and two people can use them at the same time. They are suitable for educational environments as well as home use.

Office coffee table: They are made of different materials such as wood, MDF, glass, metal, etc. Their folding models can be used for places that have little space.

○ Types of cabinets:

- Archive cabinets: These cabinets are suitable for storing documents in offices, organizations, government centers, etc. To strengthen them, their doors are made of metal and have simple and encrypted locks. The number of floors in these lockers and the distance between the shelves can be changed and adjusted. It is made in different models, sizes, colors and thicknesses according to the customer's needs.
- Laboratory cabinets: They are considered as important laboratory equipment for storing laboratory equipment. They include MDF laboratory cabinets, and MDF laboratory cabinets with HPL coating, steel lockers with electrostatic oven paint coating and stainless-steel storage cabinets. Single-walled or double-walled, are made in different types of standing and table and under the table.

Office slide filing cabinet: These files have a number of spacious and large drawers that are suitable for storing personal belongings. In standing models, they are on the table and under the table. Some models are equipped with wheels for fast and easy movement. Each drawer has a separate handle.

• Book case:

Other products:

- Single bed: These beds are very strong and resistant to pressure and impact with wood and metal. The paint used in them is of the furnace type, which does not rust or disappear over time. These beds are a good choice for rooms, barracks and dormitories.

Bunk beds: These beds are very suitable for places with little space. Their material is very strong and durable and they can withstand a lot of weight. These beds have a standard ladder to climb and also a large guard next to the beds on the upper floors.

- Whiteboards: They are important educational tools and include ordinary whiteboards, magnetic whiteboards, ceramic whiteboards, glass whiteboards, folding whiteboards and sliding whiteboards. These whiteboards are produced in base and wall models in the sizes of 30 × 20 to 250 × 120 cm as well as custom dimensions.

Packaging:

All products for export and delivery to customers, are placed in special cartons and are sent with safety tips. Bakdash Trading Company entirely guarantees the protection and quality of the product in the process of delivery.

Bakdash